

“Almost every new undertaking—moving to a different assignment, getting promoted to a higher level of leadership—creates anxiety and self-doubt. The key is to develop leadership presence, so that you can step up and project a level of confidence that will calm the butterflies in your stomach and show the outside world that you are ready and able. Current and aspiring leaders can learn a lot from this book!”

Robert L. Dilenschneider, Founder and Chief Executive Officer, The Dilenschneider Group

“Careers don’t flourish on smarts alone. While expertise counts big time, so does your ability to deliver your ideas in a way that captures your audience, whether that is just one person or a room full of people. Carol really drives this home. Wish I had this book much earlier in my own career.”

Dr. Beverly Kaye, author, speaker, consultant, and co-author of Help Them Grow or Watch Them Go

“An indispensable read. Carol is a master at turning managers into leaders through the way they talk, walk and behave.”

Marc Wright, Founder, simplycommunicate (UK)

“Leadership presence is the essential ingredient to be seen as the successful leader you are. Without it, your accomplishments can be overlooked. With it, you stand out!”

Cindy Lu, Founder, CHRO Partners, HR Peer Advisory Groups
